

1. Providing You With a Complete Update!

Our 2021 Deskbook seminar again features a complete update on all the workers' compensation developments that affect your practice. Jay Hartman and Tom Mottaz will analyze the latest cases and their effect on the petitioner and the defense bar. It is a terrific way to make sure you are up-to-date on every practice development.

2. You'll Receive Valuable Resources at the Seminar

The Minnesota Workers' Compensation Deskbook update seminar is truly your one-stop shopping. Not only do you enjoy a great seminar, and get up-to-date on all new case law developments, but you also receive your hard copy Deskbook Update and a one-year subscription to the online LinkedLaw version of the Deskbook – containing all the authority you need when researching for your clients' cases.

You'll also receive the 2021 Workers' Compensation Benefit Calculation Chart – the handy reference cheat sheet that makes practice just a little easier.

It's a tremendous value and you get it all in one place at one time.

SEMINAR HIGHLIGHTS

- The always popular Hartman and Mottaz case update
- Anatomy of a shoulder injury
- Complex Regional Pain Syndrome

5 Ethics Tips – From the Office of Lawyers Professional Responsibility

1.0 ethics credit applied for

Every year the Office of Lawyers Professional Responsibility handles hundreds of complaints from clients, opposing parties, and third parties about the conduct of lawyers practicing in Minnesota. Which issues come up most? Are there particular ethics issues implicated by remote practice? What strategies can lawyers employ to practice within the Rules, and to address client complaints when they arise? Senior Assistant Director Karin Ciano will discuss these issues and answer your questions.
