The New AI Regulatory Battleground – State Experiments and Federal Pushback

As the AI revolution explodes nationwide, policy makers rush to catch up and regulate the risk. Today, companies face a collision of state experimentation and federal attempts to assert control. This panel offers a survey of the rapidly evolving AI regulatory map: from far-reaching state laws to federal actions aimed at reshaping, challenging, or preempting those developments. After outlining this shifting landscape, the panel will offer concrete, practical guidance for companies operating in the middle of these competing forces and for the lawyers tasked with helping them navigate it.

LUNCH BREAK (provided to attendees)

12:35 – 1:15 p.m.
LUNCHTIME PRESENTATION:
AI in the Courts – Judicial Perspectives and the Real Impact on Access to Justice

As artificial intelligence tools become more common in legal practice, courts are increasingly confronting questions about their appropriate use and potential impact. This session explores how judges view AI in filings and court proceedings from lawyers and pro-se clients, and examines both the theoretical promises and real-world effects of AI on access to justice.

Judge Thomas A. Gilligan, Jr. & Judge Laurie J. Miller

1:25 – 2:15 p.m.
BREAKOUT A

101
AI in Practice – Advising Clients Across the Technology Spectrum

Clients vary widely in their familiarity with artificial intelligence, from highly sophisticated users to those who are wary or unaware of the technology. This session explores practical strategies for communicating about AI, setting expectations, and responsibly integrating AI tools when working with clients at different levels of technological understanding.

Paul M. Floyd

102
Truth in the Age of Deepfakes – Identifying and Responding to Synthetic Media

Deepfakes and other forms of synthetic media are becoming increasingly sophisticated, creating new challenges for lawyers, courts, and businesses. This session will help attorneys understand how deepfakes are created, how to recognize potential manipulation, and what legal and practical steps can be taken to address the risks they pose.

Ashley Pusey

2:15 – 2:25 p.m.
BREAK

Ai 2:25 – 2:40 p.m.
AI in Action: AI Use Cases in Appellate Practice

Kyle R. Kroll

2:40 – 3:40 p.m.
AI, Social Media, and Legal Marketing: Opportunities and Ethical Guardrails for Attorneys

1.0 ethics credit applied for

This session explores how law firms and legal marketing agencies are using social media and generative AI to design, target, and deliver legal advertising—and where ethics rules draw the line. We’ll examine issues under the ABA Model Rules and key state interpretations, including accuracy of AI-assisted content, misleading impressions in short-form video, solicitation boundaries, and cross-border online outreach. Attendees will gain practical frameworks for evaluating vendor relationships, building internal advertising review processes, using AI safely, and preparing for emerging regulatory developments.

Ryan S. Little

Ai 3:40 – 3:55 p.m.
